Section III: Apartment Group Questions and Apartment Agreement

Successful apartment groups will demonstrate a common understanding of how they will communicate with each other and their neighbors, resolve conflict, and generally function as a group within the apartment and within the greater community.

Part 1: The following questions should be answered as an apartment group:

☐ How did your group form? What factors did you all consider in making this decision to live together?

☐ What are the strengths and challenges of this group?

☐ Please discuss a time when there was conflict within this group, or you needed to work together to resolve an issue or complete a task. How did this play out, and what did you learn that would make you a stronger apartment group?

☐ Why should we select your group?

☐ Please answer if applicable: If one of your apartment mates plans to only be here for the fall semester, what ideas have you discussed to fill the open space? (Please keep in mind that the department of Residential Education may fill an open space at any time, but we prefer to work with the residents of the apartment to find a match that is suitable for all involved.)

☐ For Rooke applicants only: Which apartment mate has expressed interest in representing your apartment on Rooke Hall Tenant’s Council? What program ideas or contributions will this person bring to the council on behalf of your apartment group?

Part 2: As a group, please complete the “Apartment Agreement”

- Please complete as a group and submit to residential@colby-sawyer.edu with the name of your group contact person in the subject line of the email.

Part 3 (if applicable): Please answer these questions if any members of your group are living in a Colby-Sawyer apartment now, have lived in a campus apartment in the past, or have other relevant apartment living experience:

☐ What was the biggest challenge you faced as a resident in a campus apartment and what did you learn from the experience?

☐ In what ways have you contributed to the success of the greater hall community and what will you do next year to further this success?
